Stood side by side in front of over 2000 young African Entrepreneurs, Tony Elumelu and His Excellency Emmanuel Macron engage in a direct conversation with attendees.

According to Tony Elumelu, the collaboration between the French President and his Foundation is a result of President Macron's recognition that African entrepreneurs are the key to Africa's economic transformation and his desire to connect with and elevate the voices of future leaders

While in Nigeria, President Macron visited Nigerian President Muhammadu Buhari attend a business Forum with French business leaders, a luncheon with the 30 top Nigerian private sector leaders and a cultural event at Fela's New Africa Shrine.

Launched in 2015, The Tony Elumelu Foundation Entrepreneurship Programme is the largest African philanthropic initiative devoted to entrepreneurship and represents their 10-year, $100 million commitment to identify and empower 10.000 African entrepreneurs, create a million jobs, and add $10 billion in revenues to Africa's economy.

The Tony Elumelu Foundation's mission is to catalyze economic and social development in Africa through entrepreneurship, focusing on three areas:

- The empowerment of entrepreneurs through capacity development, seed capital, mentoring and networking.
- The promotion of thought leadership in entrepreneurship through advocacy and evidence-based research as a guide for policymakers across African governments.
- The creation of an integrated entrepreneurial ecosystem that promotes African entrepreneurship.
